GOV. EASLEY REAPPOINTS REED TO SOCIAL SERVICES COMMISSION

RALEIGH – Gov. Mike Easley has reappointed Vivian Reed of Stem to the North Carolina State Social Services Commission.

Reed is a retired school teacher. She is president of the Northern Piedmont Chapter of the N.C. Central University Alumni Association and a member of the Community Resource Council Polk Youth International. Reed received her Bachelor's in administration from NCCU and her Master's in advanced administration from Montclair State University in New Jersey.

The Social Services Commission adopts rules and regulations for the conduct of the state's social services programs and adopts, amends and rescinds rules and regulations. The commission has 13 members. They all serve four year terms and are appointed by the governor.
